Recommendations: Nothing hit the top of its range on 9/13, so this session is about building reps at the same weights rather than another jump. Bulgarian Split Squat, Single-Leg Romanian Deadlift, and Dumbbell Incline Press all sit at the bottom of their ranges at 12.5 lb — push toward 9–10 reps. Renegade Row is one rep from the top of its 6–10/side range (9/side on 9/13) — hitting 10/side across all three sets today would set up a weight increase next Day C. Bird Dog, Dead Bug, and Single-Leg Glute Bridge are all bodyweight with slow tempo already in place — keep building reps toward the top of range rather than adding more tempo on top of tempo; kept at 3 sets for Bird Dog and Dead Bug, matching what actually ran on 9/13 rather than the plan doc’s original 2. Dumbbell Overhead Carry is the one open call: 9/13 held at 10 lb/30 ft instead of taking the 12.5 lb bump the prior worksheet suggested, so it’s offered again as a choice — take the 12.5 lb jump (reps back to 30 ft), or stay at 10 lb and build distance toward 35–40 ft first. Band Pull-Apart has room left in its 15–20 range (18 on 9/13) — build toward 19–20 on the black band.
